About the Gallery

Schrecker Fine Art was set up by locally established modernist sculptor Jeremy Schrecker to showcase his bronze collection and the art and craft of making with a supportive group of guest artists. The gallery has a mission to appeal to art lovers and collectors. All visitors are welcome, whether to take a tour of the studio to learn about employed techniques, or to peruse the gallery's stable group at their leisure. The setting has attracted other artisans to the barns; Aidan Hart Icons, Barry Macy paintings, interior designers Horton & Co, visitors are welcome to make contact with them.

Nada Velickovic

Fabric tapestry? No! They are sensitively constructed oil paintings depicting landscape, field textures etc. calming, fascinating and beautiful to live with.

Ian Warburton

Formally based in Shropshire and co founder of the TwentyTwenty Gallery. Ian's construction of vibrant abstract landscapes, in impasto oils, demonstrate huge spacial awareness.

Charlie Adlard

Shrewsbury's own internationally acclaimed comic artist, shows his prowess as a versatile draughtsman with original life studies in pen & ink, and charcoal.

Pip Jones

Sparkling abstract paintings usually in water colour and acrylics depicting light and atmosphere over landscape terrain.

Richard Humphry

Showing Richard's photorealist paintings of stream beds. This artist's reputation as a surrealist in the 1960s catapulted him to exhibit with the best. Now a recluse, we are blessed to be able to view his work.
